FROM SMALL TRASH FIRE TO BIG BLAZE — Washington C.H. firemen dispatched two trucks to the Loren Cartwright residence, 839 Bogus Rd., at 2:36 p.m. Friday, in order to protect the barn and silo on the property. Cartwright had started a small trash fire in the salvage yard, which quickly went out of control. Firemen who were on the scene two and one-half hours, were able to bring the blaze under control and reported no damage. Firemen Jim Sever is pictured hosing down the flames while a bulldozer operator smothered some of the blaze with dirt.

Manure for Arabs mostly bull?

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP) — U.S. Department says it has no evidence that a proposal to fertilize the sands of an Arabian sheikdom with American cow and chicken manure is more than just a lot of bull.

But several businessmen involved in the deal say they "still have hopes it (the manure sale) will go."

Businessmen in the Olympic Peninsula communities of Port Angeles and Sequim set up companies to collect between 40,000 and 80,000 gallons of liquid manure a month from each of a dozen farmers and sell it to the oil-rich Persian Gulf emirate of Bahrain.

They said they signed a $600 million contract in November with a man who identified himself as Bahraini prince Mohammed Khalil Ebrahim.

The manure was to go aboard empty oil tankers bound for the Middle East. The first boatload was to have been shipped in mid-January.

But so far, no manure has been collected from farmers.

The contract was for 50,000 metric tons a month at $325 a ton, equal to a gross income of more than $16 million a month.

The State Department told Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., in a letter that it had received several reports of the possible sale of liquid manure from the United States to Bahrain and Dubai, another Persian Gulf sheikdom.

"Upon checking these unsubstantiated stories, however, our embassies in both Bahrain and the United Arab Emirates have been unable to come up with any information which could be considered to indicate the existence of a bona fide business opportunity...."

The FBI in Seattle confirmed it has begun a probe of the deal but refused further comment.

Meanwhile, a small Port Angeles bank is suing several persons for return of $322,000 it loaned Hen Doo, Inc., and RJB Sales, Inc., the companies set up to handle the deal.

Pivotal to deal is a manure deodorizer to control the odor and prevent the buildup of explosive methane gas during shipment.

Richard J. Briggs, Woodbury, Tenn., who holds the patent on the manure deodorizer, said he sent his banker and attorney to the Middle East. Briggs said they told him the deal was still on.

Ted Ford, one of the farmers, installed a $1,000 pipeline and loading system to move the manure from storage tanks to the trucks he expected one day to pull up to his yard. He was to be paid 5 cents a gallon for the waste.

"I can't say I'm bitter, but I'm not very happy about it either," Ford said.

The Gulf Weekly Mirror, a newspaper published in Bahrain's capital of Manama, says the deal is a hoax. It says the mysterious Ebrahim had confessed to Bahraini police that he posed as a prince in the United States and elsewhere. The newspaper says he actually is a clerk.

But Briggs and others involved in the deal say they still believe the deal is for real.

Onassis was ready to divorce Jackie

NEW YORK (AP) — Aristotle Onassis decided to divorce his wife, Jacqueline, shortly before his death last March and asked a lawyer to start proceedings, the New York Times reported in today's editions.

The newspaper said that Mrs. Onassis, also the widow of the late President John F. Kennedy, receives a bequest of only $3 million in the Onassis will, a sum far less than published reports had indicated.

Quoting friends of the Onassis family, the article said the Greek shipping magnate's will stipulated that trust funds of $1 million each be set up for Mrs. Onassis' children, Caroline and John.

It said they will receive incomes from the funds until they are 21. Previous reports had placed their inheritance as high as $15 million each.

The Times said that last Dec. 3, John Meyer, a close associate of Onassis, called lawyer Roy M. Cohn and said that Onassis wanted him to be his attorney in a divorce action against Mrs. Onassis.

"He called me when Mr. Onassis was with him," the Times quoted Cohn as saying Friday. "He said it was absolutely definite, and that Mr. Onassis wanted to end the marriage."

Meyer declined comment on the phone call, the Times said.

The newspaper quoted several friends of the Onassis family as saying that Onassis' daughter Christina by his first marriage, was instrumental in persuading her father to seek a divorce.

Onassis was suffering from the muscular disease myasthenia gravis and the newspaper reported friends saying that it was poor health rather than a reconciliation with Mrs. Onassis that led Onassis to drop the divorce action.

Rumors of a divorce between the couple dated back to 1970 but both always denied it.

Some estimates had placed Mrs. Onassis' inheritance as up to $200 million. Onassis' wealth was estimated as high as $500 million.

Mrs. Onassis is entitled to one-eighth of her husband's estate under Greek law, but according to the Times, experts say that much of his wealth from some 100 interlocking companies was kept in trust and he could have written his will so that she would receive much less.

Mrs. Onassis was not immediately available for comment.

Phantom worker probe continues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former Gov. John J. Gilligan's deputy campaign manager testified for more than an hour and a half Friday afternoon in the state payroll investigation, but another campaign aide refused to answer the grand jury's questions.

William Bannon, the deputy who also directed Gilligan's recount effort, said he fielded all of the panel's questions, but acknowledged that he might have to return at a later date.

Bannon, who is currently the mid-western coordinator of Sen. Henry Jackson's, D-Wash., campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, declined comment on his testimony. "I don't feel I did anything wrong," he said when questioned by newsmen.

James L. Beier, who also worked in the Gilligan campaign and is now employed by the state welfare department, chose "not to give any testimony before the grand jury," according to his attorney. "We may reassess that later," the lawyer, Michael Schwarzwald, said.

The Franklin County grand jury is investigating charges that Democratic campaign workers were hired and paid for state jobs after the November election, but failed to report to the assignments.

Prosecutor George C. Smith, who is directing the seven-week-old probe in cooperation with the Ohio Highway Patrol, said Friday, "it appears that there are serious irregularities in the state's employment practices.

The 16-member panel also heard testimony Friday from former administrative services director Joseph E. Sommer and three other ex-state employees.

"I gave them basically the same story I gave the press," Sommer said after his 40-minute appearance. "I told them all I know—it's the truth."

Sommer said he had recounted for the jurors a conversation last November with Gilligan's then chief of Staff John E. Hansas. During that meeting, Sommer has told newsmen, Hansas directed him to find jobs for about 70 party loyalists.

Sommer said one of his aides, Daniel Helmick, eventually placed about 40 people, mostly former campaign workers. Helmick also testified Friday.

Miss Braun queen of beef

Keeping it in the family

Miss Braun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will G. Braun, Hess Road, will serve as Fayette County Beef Queen for the second consecutive year. This is not to say that the local cattle feeders have rescinded their rule barring previous winners from entering the competition, but rather that the Brauns have two daughters who have proven themselves worthy of the title.

The Fayette County Cattlefeeders Association met Friday night and selected 17-year-old Loretta Braun as this year's queen. She succeeds her sister Marlene who captured the honor last year.

Marlene, with assistance from Dave Luckhart, cattlefeeder's association president, crowned Loretta after she edged Miss Gretchen Krieger for the title. The runnerup is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Krieger, Jeffersonville.

A senior at Miami Trace High School, Miss Braun is active in 4-H organizations, holding offices in two clubs. She is president of the sewing group and is secretary of her livestock 4-H club.

Miss Braun has served on the school's student council for two years, is on the drill team and is a member of the marching band, Y-Teens, American Field Service, and future teachers club. She participates in Future Farmers and has been elected to the Junior Fair Board. The new beef queen is a member of the Bloomingburg Methodist Church where she serves in the choir.

Approximately 60 persons attended the meeting which was held at the Terrace Lounge. The meeting was held in conjunction with the cattlefeeders association ladies night event.

Sabina youth charged in Cline Road blaze

A 13-year-old Sabina boy has been charged by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department with delinquency in connection with a fire last Friday which destroyed an unoccupied residence on Cline Road. Three fire departments battled the blaze unsuccessfully for nearly two hours.

Mark A. Webb, 13, son of Donald Webb, 149 N. Howard St., Sabina, allegedly started the fire while hiding in the house after he ran away from home. He had been arrested Wednesday by Washington C.H. Police Specialist Larry Walker during the investigation of a purse snatching incident in Washington C.H.

Early Wednesday evening, Washington C.H. police received a report of a purse snatching in an alley off Court Street. A short time later they were told that a youth fitting the description of the suspect was in a local pool hall, and specialist Walker investigated.

Webb was charged with theft as well as being a runaway from Clinton

County. While being held in the Fayette County juvenile detention center, Sheriff Don Thompson and Deputy Charles Wise determined through interviews with the youth that he had been in the Cline Road home the afternoon that the fire erupted. Conversations later indicated that he had started a fire in the middle of the floor

Nearly 700 persons attend opening of WSHS musical

Approximately 700 people attended the first of a two-night performance of the Washington Senior High School play, "Bye Bye Birdie," in the Washington C. H. Middle School auditorium Friday.

Vic Pontious, director of the play, said he was "really pleased" with the large crowd and the performance and enthusiasm of all the actors in the play. He also expressed high praise for the stage crews, who were required to change the 17 different scenes of the play in the dark and each within 15 seconds.

The musical comedy is set in 1960 and revitalizes the decade when rock and roll was king, groupies were "hip" and crew cuts, tight pants and Chevy's were "out of sight."

The theme revolves around a dilemma which finds renowned rock singer Conrad Birdie (portrayed by Tim O'Flynn) being called by Uncle Sam to join the Army and his agent, Albert Peterson, (Bryan Connell) having to devise a scheme for paying off a $50,000 contract with Birdie.

Peterson works up an idea for Birdie to bestow "One Last Kiss" on lucky fan Kim MacAfee (played by Brenda Wonderleigh) in Sweet Apple, Ohio, and have it televised on the Ed Sullivan Show.

The reactions of the lucky girl and the residents of the small Ohio town are some to see.

The play was first presented in Washington C. H. under the direction of Grover Baber in 1963 and starred Steve Anders, now a professor at Miami University, and Cinda Kelly, now Mrs. Cinda Stinson, choir director at Miami Trace High School.

Tickets for the last showing tonight may be purchased at the door before the 8 p.m. performance. Prices are $1.75 for students and $2 for adults.

"KIDS" — Randolph MacAfee (portrayed by John Rhoads Jr.), at right, offers a peashooter to his dad (David Mustine) to finish off rock star Conrad Birdie and his agent for all the trouble they have caused in the MacAfee household during a scene from Washington Senior High School's "Bye Bye Birdie." Also pictured are Mrs. MacAfee (played by Robin Van Meter) and in foreground, conductor Charles Shaffer, who directs "Kids," one of several solos by Rhoads.

TOO MANY HOSTS OPEN CONVERSATIONS WITH CORKSCREWS

CRUNCH! — When Galen Bock, 17, of 623 Park Dr., lost control of his auto on Broadway Street at 4 p.m. Friday, it was brought to an abrupt halt by the Washington Lumber Co. building, 319 Broadway. Bock sustained minor injury and was cited by Washington C.H. police officers for reckless operation.

Youth hurt, cited in city crash

A Washington C.H. youth was injured in an accident Friday afternoon and cited for traffic violation by city police. Police also investigated three additional traffic mishaps, in which no one was injured or cited. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported a hit-skip incident which was discovered early this morning.

POLICE
FRIDAY, 4 p.m. — A car driven by Galen Bock, 17, of 623 Park Dr., went out of control after Bock turned off S. North Street, onto Broadway Street. Police stated the auto traveled off the right side of the street and struck a corner of a building owned by the Washington Lumber Co., 319 Broadway St.

Bock sustained a minor laceration under his chin, but was not treated, according to reports. His car was severely damaged and he was charged with reckless operation.

3:08 p.m. — Cars driven by Carolyn J. Jones, 29, of 707 Church St., and Sander Lustig, 26, Cincinnati, were involved in an accident on Rawlings Street, near the Delaware Street intersection.

Police reported no damage to the Lustig auto and slight damage to the Jones car.

3:30 p.m. — Dayton Power and Light Co. transformer exploded at the intersection of Yeoman and S. Elm streets, spraying a car driven by Elizabeth B. Myers, 64, of 320 Cherry St., with an oily substance.

Police said there were no injuries involved, but the driver of the vehicle was concerned the substance would harm the paint job.
6:09 p.m. — Cars driven by Ervin E. Lightle, 17, Mills Road, and Arietta B. Timmons, 52, Mount Sterling, were involved in a minor accident in the McDonald's parking lot, 280 S. Elm St.

SHERIFF
A mailbox and newspaper tube at the Charles H. Downard residence, 4212 Ohio 238-NE, Bloomington, were damaged by a hit-skip driver who traveled off Ohio 238 and struck the box and tube.

The mishap is believed to have occurred sometime before 7 a.m. Saturday and Fayette county Sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Legion chief against aid

NEW YORK (AP) — James M. Wagnon, national commander of the American Legion, says South Vietnam should receive no more U.S. military aid "until, and if, President Thieu proves that he can defend what is left of his country."

"If South Vietnam could hold out for a month after the battle is joined then we could think about more military aid," Wagnon told newsmen Friday.

His comments came a day after President Ford asked Congress to approve $722 million in military aid for South Vietnam.

Wagnon also said that "if we can walk away from our commitments to our Southeast Asian allies, it follows that our word isn't worth much as concerns our other treaties and agreements."

"I think our loss of credibility started two years ago, when Congress started cutting back on military aid."

Referring to what he called "the twin tragedies of South Vietnam and Cambodia," Wagnon said, "If we as a nation have discovered that we should never become involved in the so-called political wars, the wars we have no intention of winning, then some ultimate good may yet come from these catastrophes."

Deaths, Funerals

MRS. HARLEY MONGOLD — Services for Alda M. Mongold, 73, Garringer-Edgefield Road, Jeffersonville, were held at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Morrow-Huffman Funeral Home, Jeffersonville, with the Rev. Conrad Bower officiating and the Rev. Danny Young assisting.

The wife of Harley A. Mongold, she had been a resident of the Jeffersonville community for the past 40 years. Mrs. Mongold died Tuesday.

Pallbearers for burial in Milledgeville-Plymouth Cemetery were Earl and John Green, Jeffrey Burton, Jake Stirr, Timothy Hynes and Michael Wright.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends, neighbors, and relatives for their prayers, flowers, food, cards and kindness to us during the long illness and the death of our beloved husband and father, John W. Stump, Sr.
Our special thanks to Dr. Faehnle, Dr. Hancock, Dr. Woodmansee, the staff of Fayette Memorial Hospital, the Littleton Funeral Home, pallbearers and Rev. Brian Donahue, for their services.

Ford to veto farm legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has decided to veto pending farm aid legislation that the administration contends would push up consumer prices for dairy products, congressional and White House sources say.

Chairman Thomas S. Foley of the House Agriculture Committee and others said Friday that White House legislative aides were informing members of a Senate-House conference committee on the bill that a presidential veto is inevitable.

The conference panel, which will try to compromise differing versions of farm aid passed by the House and Senate, will not hold its first meeting until Monday.

"I am surprised as well as deeply disappointed to learn of this reported decision by the President because I believe we acted in moderation and responsibility in consideration and passage of this bill," Foley, D-Wash., said in a statement.

In deciding on a veto, Ford has taken the advice of Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, who has advocated a veto for weeks.

Butz and other administration officials said the legislation would raise the retail price of milk by 8 cents a gallon, cheese by 10 cents a pound and butter by 20 cents a pound within a year because of higher price supports for dairy products.

In this issue, Butz finds himself in an unusual alliance with consumer-oriented members of Congress representing urban constituencies. They contend the over-all costs to taxpayers and consumers would range from $400 million to more than $4 billion.

The legislation would raise from 80 to 85 per cent of parity the price support level of dairy products and also boost the prices that the government guarantees farmers will receive for grain and cotton. Cotton already is selling near the price at which the government would make payments to growers.

Parity is defined at the point at which the price a farmer receives for his product equals the cost of producing it plus a reasonable profit.

Auto industry set for more recalls

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry layoffs next week will decline 11,000 to the lowest level of the year.

Despite the sharp decline from January's peak figures, special jobless pay for 70,000 laid-off General Motors workers will be cut off April 30 because extensive furloughs will have exhausted the firm's supplemental benefits fund.

Nearly 205,000 of the industry's 712,000 hourly employees will be off the job Monday, including 198,000 who have been on indefinite furlough for up to a year.

As many as 300,000 workers were on layoff in January. Modest improvements in car sales in recent months have enabled the companies to increase production and recall workers to the assembly lines.

GM and the United Auto Workers announced on Friday that no Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB) will be paid beginning in May to workers who would still be eligible for such payments.

Chrysler Corp. mailed out its final checks Friday, slashing about 33,000 workers from the extra, company-paid, furlough income.

Coupled with government unemployment compensation, SUB provides the eligible average furloughed worker with $170 a week, nearly 95 per cent of his normal take-home pay. SUB pay comes to an average $80 and government benefits average $90 a week.

GM said 125,000 of its 400,000 production workers will be on indefinite layoffs at the end of April. Of those, 45,000 either will have exhausted their one-year SUB eligibility or will not have had the year's seniority needed to receive payments.

Another 10,000 employees represented by the International Union of Electrical Workers receive benefits from a separate SUB fund. That fund is in no immediate danger of exhaustion, GM said.

SUB funds at each of the four U.S. auto companies were set up as a financial cushion to soften the shock of short-term layoffs. The funds at Chrysler and GM, however, have been drained by heavy payments to workers idled due to the 19-month-long sales slump.

of the house in order to keep warm. Since the youth resides in Clinton County, Fayette County Juvenile Court Judge Rollo M. Marchant has turned the case over to the Clinton County Juvenile Court for hearing.

Webb had been arrested as a runaway April 3 when he was found in a vacant home in Fayette County. He had been returned to Clinton County and appeared in juvenile court before again running away Friday, April 5. He had left for school that morning, but had not been seen again until the purse-snatching incident.

Property loss in the fire has been estimated as high as $10,000. The vacant home was owned by Jess Crago, Burnett-Perrill Road.

U.S. pulls out of Phnom Penh

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The United States closed its embassy in Phnom Penh today and evacuated Americans and some Cambodians, including Acting President Sau Kham Khoy, in an airlift protected by heavily armed U.S. Marines.

President Ford ordered the evacuation as the Khmer Rouge closed to within one mile of the Phnom Penh airport, the Cambodian capital's last link to the outside.

The action signaled American abandonment of Cambodia to the Communist-led insurgents, who have conquered most of the nation and encircled Phnom Penh.

Cambodian legislator Thach Chan told an Associated Press newsmen that he had met with the remaining government ministers and they were considering surrendering to the Khmer Rouge. The reporter later left the city aboard a chartered plane for Saigon. Sau Kham Khoy took over when President Lon Nol left beleaguered Phnom Penh earlier this month. He is now in Hawaii.

Only two Americans are known to have remained in Phnom Penh Richard Boyle, a stringer for The Associated Press, and freelance photographer Al Rockoff.

Between 1880 and 1920, two million Jews came to America from eastern Europe, refugees from Czarist Russia, Rumania and Hungary.

5 Columbus firemen die in air crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Five city firemen, who apparently decided to take an airplane ride after ending their shifts, were killed Friday when the twin-engine plane sliced into trees northeast of Columbus, authorities said.

Authorities said the twin-engine Beechcraft airplane carrying the men crashed about 9 a.m. in a rugged area in northeastern Franklin County. Investigators said the aircraft apparently was attempting a landing at a small, private landing strip owned by the pilot.

The wreckage was discovered shortly after noon by a police helicopter using directional radio equipment to trace the signal of an emergency beacon on the airplane.

Fire Chief Don Werner said all the victims were assigned to the fire station on the airport grounds. Police said they apparently decided to go for an airplane ride after finishing their shifts Friday morning.

Tower authorities at the airport said passing airplanes reported monitoring the emergency beacon, which activates upon impact, shortly after the tower lost contact with the airplane.

Officials at the scene said the craft clipped the tops of trees before crashing. One wing was ripped off and remained hanging in a tree. The main part of the fuselage came to rest in a small ravine about 100 yards away.

Ozone depletion peril

Growing concern about depletion of Earth's protective ozone layer is further heightened by a National Academy of Sciences report just released. The report emphasizes that not only supersonic planes, but also subsonic jets which operate in the stratosphere, tend to diminish the ozone.

The harmful effect anticipated by some scientists should fleets of supersonic transports begin operations has been debated for some years. Though there is as yet no conclusive evidence based on such flights, the argument was persuasive enough to be a major factor in the decision of Congress not to provide further support for development of an American SST.

More recently, researchers have sounded warnings that aerosol sprays also put chemicals in the air which eventually reach the stratosphere and reduce the ozone layer. Here again, the chief cause of concern springs from the fact that it is this layer which safeguards us against harmful ultraviolet radiation. Such radiation contributes markedly to the incidence of skin cancer.

It is this danger on which the new

Academy of Sciences report focuses. Its conclusions are all the more disturbing because they relate to subsonic jets as well as those which travel faster than sound. We are told that the amount of skin cancer in our population probably would rise should there be any major increase in stratospheric flights by jets of current design.

The trend in commercial aviation is toward aircraft that fly higher. This lends particular weight to the Academy of Sciences warning. The report must be seriously considered as a basis for new flight regulations.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
SUNDAY, APRIL 13

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
Going to extremes, unorthodox thinking and action could get you into difficulties if not on guard. A day in which to stress logic, foresight.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
This day's success will depend largely on your mental attitude. Do not be disappointed if all your wishes are not granted immediately. Take delays in stride.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
You can fashion this day much to your liking IF you take into consideration the necessary involvements of others. Travel and social activities especially favored.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Lunar influences not entirely favorable. You may encounter tension in some areas. Keep your balance and look at the bright side of things.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
You may get a lot of off-beat ideas now. Put them right out of your head. In all situations, it will be important to stress good judgment, level-headedness.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
You may find yourself in the midst of controversy. Don't let it bother you. Rather, get together with opponents and, using your innate foresight, you can solve all issues nicely.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Despite a few obstacles, many benefits and new means of attainment are indicated. Especially favored: romance, travel, family interests.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
A new surge of energy should carry you far along the road to success and recognition. But be sure of your goals. Don't go off on tangents.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
If you aim straight and do not permit emotions or a biased viewpoint to throw you off course, you will know how to cope with ALL, not some situations.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Do not let a personal disappointment mar your overall perspective. Continue to aim for high goals. Your adeptness, know-how and intuition should be potent now.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Just the right day to bring off something new in your occupational area. Move fast! Evening hours favor romance.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
Look for some unusually pleasant communications from those at a distance; also new contacts which could prove invaluable in a business way.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great force and determination; are a born leader, but often highly unpredictable. You would make an excellent executive but, because of a tendency toward "bossiness," you would not necessarily be a popular one. You could also make an outstanding lawyer, statesman or teacher. On the artistic side, you have a close affinity for music and should try to cultivate this talent — if not to follow as a career, to provide a highly satisfying avocation.

MONDAY, APRIL 14

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
You'll do best now by cooperating with others instead of insisting on your own way. Some friction possible in the latter case.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
Advance a new idea, enlist the help of others to put it across. Under prevailing influences, you should win new benefits, advance your status.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Some planetary restrictions. Be cautious in budgetary matters and DO control emotions. Some situations will call for unusual tact.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
A recently proffered suggestion to which you may not have given much thought could, quite unexpectedly, open new doors to progress. Think about it NOW.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Do not try to change pre-planned activities or reverse tactics without giving others adequate notice. Careful explanation of your decisions can prevent misunderstandings.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Stars encourage job and business matters. Take a chance on a new idea, but do not launch unless fully prepared.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
A good period for everyday matters and, in some respects, for the unusual and extraordinary. Look for some good news in the p.m.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Excellent stellar influences! Certain recent pressures should be lifting and some of your cherished desires can be realized. You have good friends in your corner.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Practical issues will demand your complete attention. There's a temptation now to skip details, but this could be costly. Heed the voice of experience.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Here is one of those choice days where your personality, ambitions and know-how, teamed up, can help you make new records.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Being the rugged individualist that you are, you rarely "follow the crowd." Don't change this policy now. Continue as a leader.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
Look to others for wise suggestions — help, too. Don't try too much by yourself or reject ideas arbitrarily, for the sake of delight in personal achievement.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely ambitious individual, energetic and highly versatile. Included in the many lines through which you could carve an outstanding career are business (especially manufacturing), banking, science, education, literature and the theater. In the latter, your talents run gamut from bright and witty comedy to serious drama. Your sense of the dramatic also fits you for trial law where you could make a brilliant name for yourself. Try to overcome a tendency to be overly critical of others.

State intervenes in fight for malpractice insurance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state has intervened in an effort to get increased malpractice insurance for seven Mansfield anesthesiologists who refuse to work without it.

The doctors' refusal to work on any but emergency cases has caused two Mansfield hospitals to close wards and postpone all non-emergency surgery.

Director Harry Jump of the Ohio Department of Insurance said Friday he has been in contact with the firm which now insures the doctors for $300,000 in an effort to get that amount boosted.

But Jump said that any extension had to be approved by the firm's home office. He said his department also is trying to get temporary coverage for Anesthesia Associates Inc., the doctors' firm.

The doctors say they need a minimum of $2 million insurance.

Until last Tuesday, the doctors had that amount of insurance, for which they paid $35,000 a year in premiums.

That policy expired, however, and the doctors have been able to obtain only $300,000 worth of insurance, for which they pay $50,000 a year.

Asst. Insurance Director Joseph Gilmore said he understands their position.

"For these guys to practice without more than $300,000 worth of insurance, and with all their assets on the line, puts them between a rock and a hard place," he said.

Meanwhile, 94 scheduled operations have been scrubbed at General and People's hospitals in Mansfield as the anesthesiologists remained away for the third day in a row.

General Hospital closed an 18-bed wing Friday. It closed a 25-bed wing Thursday, and a spokesman said the hospital was operating at 70 per cent capacity.

General Hospital has laid off nine workers and 25 others are taking time off. Twelve people have been laid off at People's. Both hospitals are asking employees to take vacations now.

American orphans being pushed aside

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — As people scramble to adopt Vietnamese war waifs, thousands of American children remain orphaned and ignored.

Government officials estimate that there are between 100,000 and 120,000 children in foster care homes and institutions around the country. Many are victims of parental neglect. Others are caught in legal snarls and have never been freed for adoption.

Most are members of minority groups, a factor that makes them less attractive to some foster parents. And many have physical handicaps, emotional problems or come only with brothers and sisters in a package deal.

Most are no longer infants while many prospective foster parents desire only infants.

"We must do everything possible for American children," said Ursula M. Gallagher, an expert in child adoption in the Children's Bureau within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"Some Americans think we have a greater responsibility to Vietnamese children fathered by American soldiers than to those children already here," she said. But Miss Gallagher said she has reservations about some of those offering to adopt Vietnamese children.

"It seems to me the reaction to the Vietnamese children is an emotional response in a crisis," she said. "Many people haven't thought through what it will mean to them if they adopt one of these children."

"They must be aware of the different needs the child will have in respect to his identity, his biological parents and his homeland. Many people who are reaching out haven't thought about the psychological and financial problems. They're reaching out to children who need the most, but children here need homes, too."

Adoption experts explain that the number of American babies available for adoption has been declining steadily for the past few years because of the increased number of abortions, improved contraceptive methods and a general interest in smaller families. It also has become more socially acceptable for unwed mothers to keep their children.

Social workers express delight that the recent focus on the Vietnamese orphans has sparked a general public interest in adoption.

"We've received 3,500 calls in the last five days," said Mrs. Lenore Campbell, director of the Los Angeles County Department of Adoption in California. "A lot of people are interested in the Vietnamese children because they want infants, and we simply don't have them. But some say if they can't have a Vietnamese child, they'll take any child."

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Fiance conveniently forgets the marriage license

DEAR ABBY: I wish people who ask ministers to conduct funerals and weddings knew the word "honarium" means (a payment to a professional for services for which no fee is set or legally obtainable.)

Some people feel it is so crude to ask a minister: "How much do I owe you," that they just let the matter go and do nothing about it at all.

My husband is a minister (please don't say where), and within the last year, he was called to officiate at the funeral services of both elderly man and his wife, who lived 35 miles away. He was given no fee.

Abby, can you imagine anyone writing the following note to an attorney? "Thank you, Mr. Jones, for your legal services. Mother and Dad would have wanted you to come down to handle these legal services for us at this trying time."

Or the minister to his barber: "Thank you, Mr. Smith, for cutting my hair at this time. I would not want to embarrass the family by needing a haircut." Or: "Thank you, Mr. Brown, for the gasoline, oil, and car wash. I wouldn't want to run out of gas on my way to a funeral or show up with a dirty car." Or: "Thank you, Mr. White, for cleaning and pressing my suit. I would not want to embarrass the family at this time by appearing unkempt."

In order to make ends meet, my husband moonlights and had to pay a substitute for his second job so he could make these two funerals.

INDIGNANT

DEAR INDIGNANT: Perhaps because there is no set fee for conducting funerals and weddings, some folks feel that there is no fee at all. Also, some clergymen have written to tell me that they consider such services a part of their job, and they're insulted when they are offered money for doing the work of the Lord.

I say: "Offer anyway. The offended clergyman can always refuse."

DEAR ABBY: I am 18, and the boy I've been dating for two years is 19. We were supposed to get married secretly last month, but Dick showed up without the license.

Originally, when I had asked him if he had it, he had said yes.

But after we arrived at the preacher's house and the preacher asked Dick for the license, Dick said he "forgot" it at home, hoping the preacher would perform the ceremony anyway, and let him bring it around later.

Well, the preacher wouldn't marry us without the license, so we decided to stay in a motel that night, thinking Dick would get the license the next day, and we'd get married and nobody would know the careless mistake he made.

Well, the preacher called my father, and my father came to the motel to pick me up. I felt just awful, but I went with my father.

I still have feelings for Dick. He says if I don't come back to him he will kill himself. My parents say I should let Dick go. Should I listen to my parents or stick with Dick?

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: Listen to your parents, dear. Dick didn't make a "careless" mistake. He lied to you. He sounds much too immature and irresponsible for marriage now.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LU: Don't believe everything you see in print. Many celebrities prefer to let vicious untruths go unchallenged rather than to sue for defamation of character because they believe that if one wrestles with a skunk, he's apt to emerge smelling as bad as the skunk.

Weather conditions aiding field work

BY JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent, Agriculture
Weather conditions this past week have been excellent for making good progress in spring field work. A drive to most any part of the county the last few days found tractors in the field. I talked with several fellows getting anxious to start planting the 15th. Others aren't sure — say that date is too early.

It's apparent that without rain before Tuesday there'll be a few acres planted. In fact — there may be a few acres planted by now.

At any rate — it's time to put the plow away and get down to serious thinking about getting ready to plant corn. Many farmers may disagree but we are at the point where unplowed fields should be left unplowed. Research and farm experience have shown that we can grow just about as much corn using other methods.

We know for sure that getting the crop in on time is more important than the tillage system. Now, I am not saying everyone should start planting corn Tuesday. But give it another week to ten days and everyone should be in the field with a planter. If you can plow and prepare the ground by then excellent. If not consider some alternatives.

Disc once or twice and plant. Keep it shallow, or use a field cultivator and plant. About four or five inches should be sufficient. A couple of our profit plots are going to be comparing these alternatives with plow, disc, and plant.

One important point to keep in mind — if you're not sure about no-plow tillage — try a few acres side-by-side with plowing. See how it works on your farm.

Keep in mind — don't work the soil wet with shallow no-plow tillage.

EARLY PLANTING has been shown to be a profitable factor — and a yield booster. It shows up in research and it's shown up in the Fayette County Corn Club over the years.

Planting on the ideal date can double corn yields as has been shown in date of planting demonstrations at the Farm Science Review over the last six years. During that time, yields have ranged from 188 bushels for early May planting down to 95 bushels with a June 15 planting. Yields drop fast after May 10. But in most years only about 30 per cent of the corn is planted by May 10. Last year was one exception when about 60 per cent was planted by May 10. Starting planting in late April will enable planting to be well along by May 10.

THE 7TH annual County and State Fair Market Lamb Prospect Sale sponsored by the Fayette County Shepherds Club is set for Friday, April 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds. It looks now like there will be about 150 lambs for sale that night with nearly 200 head entered. This should be an excellent opportunity to purchase 4-H and FFA project lambs.

SPEAKING of sales, information arrived this morning concerning the production tested bull sale. Approximately 70 bulls will be selling at 6:30 p.m., Monday April 14 at Wilmington Livestock Producers Sale Barn located on Route 22 on the east edge of Wilmington.

The bulls have been on test and have some excellent records. All bulls on test average 3.05 pounds per day gain during the 140 day test period. Catalogs with pedigrees and final test information will be available at the sale.

TRACTOR TEAM — Miami Trace High School entered a team of two vocational agriculture students in the finals of the annual state tractor trouble-shooting contest held at Springfield-Clark Technical College at Springfield recently. Representing Miami Trace were Dave Duff, left, and Don Burr, who had already won their county and district competition in one of the 15 vocational agriculture districts in Ohio. The team placed seventh, but was only 22 points out of first place. William Diley and Charles Andrews, vocational agriculture teachers, accompanied the team, which was trained by John Waddle.

See buildup of bean reserves

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A possibility of a near-record soybean crop this year, an uncertainty about future exports plus lagging domestic use of meal by livestock producers are pointing to a substantial buildup in reserve supplies next year, according to Agriculture Department analysts.

Another factor which could have an important bearing on the situation during 1975-76 is a provision in farm bills passed by the House and Senate which would restore federal price supports to soybeans.

Under the farm bill's plan, USDA would be required to offer soybean growers price support loans on their 1975 crop at around $3.94 per bushel. The USDA canceled 1975 soybean price support loans which had been set at $2.25 per bushel in recent years.

According to the department's Outlook and Situation Board, based on farmers' 1975 planting intentions announced last month, this year's soybean crop could rise to almost 1.56 billion bushels, equaling 1973's record and about 300 million bushels more than last year's reduced harvest.

If plantings are not so much as indicated in the March survey or if weather conditions are poor, the 1975 crop might range as low as 1.45 billion bushels. Even so, that would be around 200 million bushels more than 1974 output.

"Consequently, carryover stocks on Sept. 1, 1976, would rise sharply from the 135 million bushels now estimated for this coming September, possibly at least doubling that figure," the department said in a summary of a fats and oils report to be issued next week.

Demand for soybean meal and oil has been reduced sharply. The report said that has been due mainly to "the slumping domestic economy, poor returns from livestock and poultry feeding, and curtailed foreign purchases."

Thus, farm prices of soybeans have dropped substantially, from a national average of $8.17 per bushel last October to $5.31 in March. Since the new soybean marketing year began last Sept. 1 the prices have averaged $6.75 per bushel at the farm, about $1 more than in 1973-74, the report said.

Officials said they could not predict at this time how soybean prices might stack up next fall when the crop is harvested. But if there is near-record production, one official told a reporter privately Wednesday, "there is a good chance prices will be lower than now."

But he added that if the U.S. livestock and poultry industry makes a rapid recovery and exports pick up then soybean prices at the farm could change the situation.

The department announced last November that there would be no government price support loans on 1975 soybeans because "market prices are two to three times loan levels" previously in effect.

Report vice discovered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigators have turned up evidence of gambling and drug peddling in the Agriculture Department and sources say prostitution also may be involved.

Joseph R. Wright Jr., assistant secretary for administration, said Monday that preliminary findings of department investigators on alleged gambling and drug traffic have been turned over to District of Columbia police.

"We had reports of these and we did an investigation," Wright said in response to a newsman's questions. "And it did involve questionable activities which we had to look at. Our final reports haven't been finished, and I haven't heard from the police whether they will be taking any action."

A District police department spokesman declined to comment on the matter. He said it was customary that no comments be made in such cases until they have been cleared for public release.

Wright said he could not comment on rumors that a sex ring has been operating on department premises but indicated those reports were being checked by department investigators.

Other sources, however, said at least one government female employee was being investigated for alleged prostitution and that others may be involved in the inquiry.

The sources said that both department personnel and outsiders may be involved in the vice probe.

Open house plans OKd

Columbus, O., April 4. — Proclamations designating August 7-12 as Research Showcase — Open House '75 at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, Wooster, have been recommended by director Roy M. Kottman and approved by the center's board of control.

Research Showcase — Open House '75 represents a major activity planned by the Center to celebrate the centennial of the establishment of the first state agricultural experiment station in the United States.

The board authorized Director Kottman to forward the proclamations to Governor James A. Rhodes; Oliver Ocasek, president pro tem of the Ohio Senate; and Vernal G. Riffe, Jr., speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives.

Personnel actions by the board included courtesy appointments of an acting department chairman and an associate professor. Dr. Gordon E. Gatherum, acting director of the school of natural resources at OSU, was named professor and acting chairman of the OARDC Department of Fisheries, Wildlife, and Outdoor Recreation. Dr. Harvey B. Manbeck was named associate professor of agricultural engineering.

Kenneth E. McClure, assistant professor of animal science, was assigned to conduct research in forage evaluation for sheep at the University of Florida, Gainesville, from July 1 to Dec. 15. He will make laboratory investigations of the indigestible components of warm and cool season grass and legume forage plants.

Wool payment rate announced by ASC

An incentive payment rate of 21.8 per cent on 1974 marketings of shorn wool was announced today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) according to George Speakman, chairman of the Fayette County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The announced payment rate is based on the difference between the national average price of 59.1 cents a pound received by producers during 1974 and the previously announced incentive price of 72 cents a pound. Incentive payments to wool growers are required under the National Wool Act of 1954, as amended.

The 1974 payment rate compares with the 1972 rate of 105.7 per cent. Payments on 1974 marketings of wool will be about $16 million compared to payments of $68 million on 1972 marketings of wool. There were no payments made on 1973 wool marketings since the national average price during 1973 exceeded the support level.

A grower's wool payment on 1974 marketings is determined by multiplying his net dollar return from the sale of wool by the payment rate of 21.8 per cent Speakman said. This percentage method of payment is designed to encourage growers to improve the quality and marketing of their wool. In any marketing year for which incentive payments are made, the higher the price a grower receives for his wool, the larger his payment will be.

A payment rate of 52 cents per hundredweight on unshorn lambs sold or slaughtered in 1974 was also announced by Speakman. This payment is designed to compensate growers for the wool they market on live lambs rather than as shorn wool. The payment is based on the shorn wool payment rate, average weight of wool per hundredweight of lambs, and value of lamb's wool relative to the national average value of shorn wool.

Deductions of 1-1/2 cents a pound from 1974 shorn wool payments and 7-1/2 cents a hundred pounds of liveweight from 1974 lamb payments will be made to finance advertising, sales promotion, and related market development activities. These deductions, provided for in the National Wool Act, were approved by an 85.5 per cent favorable vote by sheepmen voting in a November, 1974 referendum.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will begin making the payments to growers shortly through its county offices Speakman said.

Especially in agriculture, data shows

Technical education means jobs

WOOSTER — Technical education means jobs, especially in agriculture, according to Dr. Dan Garrison, assistant director of the Agricultural Technical Institute (ATI). Figures on ATI's first graduating class show a strong demand for students trained in technical agriculture.

Of the 106 members of ATI's first graduating class, last June, 96 per cent are employed or are continuing their education. And 94 per cent of those employed are working in the area of their technical specialization.

ATI, Ohio's first technical institute devoted entirely to agriculture, was established in 1972 by the Ohio State University to provide a two-year program leading to an associate degree in Applied Science. Located at Wooster, the institute is part of OSU's College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The ATI graduates were the first students to receive associate degrees from Ohio State.

Educational programs at ATI are practical and occupation centered. Involvement with industry is emphasized throughout. Each technology is supported by a technical advisory committee made up of interested specialists from management, industry, research and education. These committees serve as a reliable means of keeping the efforts of the Institute up to date, of high quality, and closely attuned to the employment needs of the agricultural manpower force.

At the same time the College of Agriculture's enrollment has continued its upward trend, ATI is experiencing its largest enrollment yet. From a start of 200 students the first year and 400 last year, ATI's winter quarter enrollment climbed to 482 students. Nearly 600 are expected by Autumn, 1975.

ATI's curriculum now includes 12 technologies with two more slated to begin next fall. The 12 programs are: Wood Utilization; Agronomic Industries; Crop Production; Plant Health and Protection; Landscape Design, Contracting and Construction; Nursery Management; Turfgrass Management; Floriculture and Greenhouse Management; Agricultural Research and Laboratory Science; Dairy Cattle Production; Livestock Production; and Horse Production and Management. Curriculums in the areas of beekeeping and soil and water management are tentatively scheduled for Fall Quarter, 1975.

A key point of the ATI program, and one which also helps to keep the Institute job centered, is the on-the-job occupational internship that each student must complete as a graduation requirement. Students find jobs and work in the field of their educational specialization. In so doing, they are paid as regular employees, earn academic credit, and gain practical experience.

Dr. Jerry J. Halterman, director of the Institute, believes that "all Ohio is our campus" when ATI students go out on internship. Students have found internship stations at locations throughout the state of Ohio and a few have been placed at locations out of state.

"An internship program cannot function without opportunities and this means there is a distinct advantage regarding final placement at a later date. An internship can give students early answers to serious, career-oriented questions," says Dr. Garrison.

ATI students come from almost all of Ohio's 88 counties and at least seven states. They range in age from 17 to the late forties. Thirty-one per cent of the students are women and about 16 per cent of the members of the present student body have transferred from other colleges and universities.

Dr. Halterman explains that, "These students are finding that ATI can prepare them for jobs by giving them a significant amount of highly specialized training, and that technical education offers them a viable choice. The technicians we are educating fill a void between the vocationally and professionally oriented occupations, and each graduate has what we consider to be the cutting edge of occupational competency."

The cooperative movement began in the rural areas of Canada as a means of marketing grain.

Farm price sag seen in stores

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sagging farm prices are gradually diminishing the size of increases in food costs despite a continued bulge in mid-dleman expenses.

Last month, a year's supply of farm-produced marketbasket groceries cost a record of $1,830 a boost of $7 in the annual rate from January, the Agriculture Department said Monday.

But officials said the increase, four-tenths of one per cent during the month, was the smallest since last fall when the market basket indicator rose $4 from September to October.

Department experts are standing on an earlier prediction that retail food prices will go up 2 to 3 per cent in the first quarter of this year and another 3 per cent on an annual rate basis in take-home food prices through mid-year, compared with 14.9 per cent for all of 1974.

But Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz recently told the White House that he expects retail food prices to go up only 1.5 to 2 per cent in each of the first two quarters and then level off and possibly decline some during the second half.

Department experts said Monday that if he is correct food prices for all of 1975 might rise less than 7 per cent, on the average, which would be the smallest increase since 1972.

Meantime, the February market-basket figures showed that farmers continued to see their share of the consumer food dollar decline while middlemen who transport, process and sell food took a larger portion.

Last month the farm value of the 65-item basket was $724 on an annual basis, the department said. While that was down only $1 from January it was $79 less than the farm share in February last year, a drop of 9.9 per cent.

The middleman portion was $1,106 last month, an $8 boost from January and $177 above the year-earlier share for a gain of 18.9 per cent.

As used by the department, the marketbasket includes enough food for a theoretical household of 3.2 persons for an entire year. However, it does not include imported or seafood products, only items which originate on U.S. farms.

"Spreads (the middleman's share) widened for many marketbasket foods, especially fresh vegetables, oilseed products, and bakery and cereal products," the department said. "They decreased for meats, poultry, eggs and fresh fruits."

At an all-cut retail average of $1.29 per pound last month, beef was at its lowest retail price in more than two years and was 14 per cent below the record counter price of $1.50 a pound just a year earlier.

But the report also showed that choice-grade steers in the Midwest were down sharply, too, averaging $35 per 100 pounds of live weight in February compared with $36.58 in January. In February last year, steer prices at the farm were more than $46 per hundredweight.

Put another way, the report showed that farmers received an equivalent of 39.6 cents from each $1 consumers spent last month on market-basket foods, compared with 39.8 cents in January and 46.4 cents in Feb. 1974.

THE ULTIMATE FARM MACHINE TO INCREASE SEED POTENCY AND CROP YIELDS

For years men have tried to improve their yields by helping nature "feed" her crops they've fertilized, cultivated, irrigated, hybridized, herbicided, and rotated. But until now there have been only two energy sources for plant life: the soil and the sun. Now, science has discovered how to use a third energy source to hasten growth and increase yields. Electro-magnetic energy. This energy applied to plants by the Ultimate Farm Machine—the Engazer—brings about more rapid germination, earlier emergence, larger root systems, stronger plants, earlier maturity, and big yield increases. A limited supply of Engazers are now available. For more information contact:

Chemical helps beans

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Field testing is expected to begin this year on a promising new chemical control soybean disease, the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center said Monday.

The center said the chemical, benomyl, will be used in 15 certified seed farms in western Ohio.

The center said benomyl has been effective in controlling two different fungi in small trial plots at the center during the past two years.

The fungi damage soybean seed quality, lower germination and reduce the quality of market soybeans.

Wouldn't you like your wife to take you to Florida next winter?

She may—if she enters Heinold Hog Markets' 25th anniversary pork recipe contest. She could be a winner of one of eight trips (for self and spouse) to Florida next November. The best recipe submitted at each of Heinold's 63 hog markets across the midwest will be worth a $25 savings bond.

Just pick up a recipe form at any Heinold Hog Market, have your wife write down her favorite pork recipe, and return it by August 1.

(P.S. Men—Why wait for your wife! Enter yourself —and take her to Florida next November.)

United Methodist Women meet in Woodmansee home

Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, president of the United Methodist Women, welcomed Circle 4 of Grace Church, to her home. Mrs. Heber Deer, circle president, conducted the meeting, read Scripture and the poem, "Singing Heart."

Mrs. Walter Sollars read minutes in the absence of Mrs. Robert Case and called the roll. Members responded with 45 calls made to sick and shutin members. Reports were made by Mrs. Maurice Sollars, treasurer, and Mrs. Deer reported on "Church Day."

AFS students, Debbie Symmans of New Zealand, and Bent Hansen of Denmark, presented the program, by telling of their countries, which was very interesting. Debbie is a senior at Washington Senior High School and Bent is a senior at Miami Trace High School.

The annual rummage sale was announced for April 25 and 26 to be held in Progress Club hears reviews

Recordings of "Sound of Music" greeted the Progress Club at the home of Mrs. Carl Janes, when members met for a meeting. The home was decorated with totem pole candles and other decorations bought while Mr. and Mrs. Janes and Mr. and Mrs. John Sheeley toured Alaska.

Mrs. Sheeley welcomed 14 members and one guest, Mrs. Eugene Avey, and opened the meeting with Longfellow's poem, "Daffodils."

Roll call was answered by naming something concerning Austria, because the first review of the evening was "Maria" given by Mrs. Clarence Knecht. Maria Von Trapp grew up in Austria and was left as an orphaned child at a very early age. She joined one of Austria's hardest convents on the hopes of becoming a nun. As the "will of God" she married Baron Georg Von Trapp and became the second mother of his seven children. When Hitler struck Austria, Mrs. Trapp became the guiding force of the family.

Maria is not only a musician, mother, homemaker, lecturer and world traveler, she is also an accomplished writer. Her book was made into a play, "Sound of Music" which ran for four and one-half years on Broadway, she said.

The second report was given by Mrs. Janes on Alaska who traveled by boat, bus, plane and train on a recent trip in Alaska. She spoke of the Eskimos of the north, the Athabaskan Indians of the central and southern part the Aleuts of the Aleutian Chain and the Tlinglet Indians of the southern water passage. The Tlinglet Indians were creators of beautiful totem poles which depict their love and respect for animals never killing more than they needed at a time.

Everyone enjoyed the slides of Mt. McKinley, Nome, Fairbanks, Hotzebeue and many other interesting places in Alaska.

During the social hour the members and Mrs. Avey enjoyed a salad course with napkins from Alaska and packets of sugar featuring symbols of Alaska.

Fellowship Hall, and May 7 is Church Day at 1:30, which will be followed by a Tea at the church.

Members gave appropriate readings: Mrs. Edwin Bower, Mrs. Heber Deer, Mrs. Jean Nisley, Mrs. Russell McCoy, Mrs. Walter Parrett, Mrs. Marlin Riley, Miss Helen Perrill, Mrs. Maurice Sollars and Mrs. Walter Sollars.

Refreshments were served from the dining room table during the social hour.

Baptist Society holds meeting

The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Sugar Creek Baptist Church was held in the home of Mrs. Robert Ellars, and devotions were taken from the Book of Solomon. Poems by Helen Steiner Rice and the book, "What the Bible is All About" by Billy Graham were also read.

Mrs. Gene Donohoe, president, conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Harry Campbell gave the secretary's report. Mrs. Edna Carman made the treasurer's report, and the 'Love gift' and 'least coin' offerings were accepted.

A dessert course was served to Mrs. Donohoe, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Carmen, Mrs. Mander Boggs, Mrs. Michael Campbell, Mrs. Olan Bentley, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Ellars and Mrs. Layton Shoemaker.

Riding Club plans trail ride

The regular meeting of Happy Trails Riding Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Green, when plans for a trail ride this weekend were made at Tar Hollow. A pot of stew will be prepared for the Sunday meal, so each is urged to bring something for the stew.

The next meeting will be May 5 at the Hugh Zimmerman farm, Rt. 38.

Good Hope women meet

The Good Hope United Methodist Women met in the home of Mrs. Lee Persinger, who also conducted the meeting. Reports were made and a past president's pin was presented to Mrs. Eugene Thompson for her four years as president of the organization.

Mrs. Lowell Woods presented a very inspiring program entitled "The Characteristics of a Christian." Mrs. Reisinger, assisted by Linda Reisinger, served refreshments to Mrs. Lulu Baird, Mrs. Pearl Breakfield, Mrs. William Dunn, Miss Elda Fenner, Mrs. Mabel Kibler, Mrs. Louis Null, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Woods, Mrs. Lucy Verian, Mrs. Leo Downs and Mrs. William VanDyke.

Ottmar Mergenthaler, a Baltimore machinist, invented the keyboard method of typecasting, which revolutionized newspaper publishing.

Wedding set for June 7

Mr. and Mrs. James Baughn Sr. of Rt. 3, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Sue, to Stanley James Brixey son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Brixey of Prairie City, S. Dak.

Miss Baughn, a graduate of Miami Trace High School, is presently employed at the Jackson Glove Factory, 220 E. Temple St.

Her fiance, a graduate of Bison High School, Prairie City, S. Dak., is now attending Kentucky Mountain Bible School, Vancleve, Ky.

The open church wedding will be an event of June 7 at 2:30 p.m. in the Church of Christ in Christian Union. An open reception will follow the ceremony at the Youth Fellowship Hall, Rt. 35.

MISS MARY SUE BAUGHN

Buckeye Girls' State Scholarship winners announced

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 25 took place in the Post Home, when Mrs. Philip Ford conducted the meeting in ritualistic form.

The charter was draped in memory of the late Miss Nell Fogle.

Reports were made by Mrs. Smith Mace and Mrs. Charles Williams, and a letter read from the 7th District President Mrs. Delno Olaker, announcing the 7th District was in first place in membership. Girls' State Tea will be held in Portsmouth at the Hudson House at 2 p.m. May 18. Hospital Day at Chillicothe is planned for May 4.

Mrs. Harold Gorman, Mrs. Emily Coberly and Mrs. Ford made the monthly trip to the VA Hospital, Chillicothe, and served cookies and punch to 50 patients on Ward 26 C-D. Cookies were provided by Mrs. Coberly, Mrs. Ray West, Mrs. Phillip Binzel, Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee and Mrs. Hughey Thompson.

Unit 25 donated a trophy to the Junior Fair Board.

Americanism chairman Mrs. Williams announced the recipients of scholarships to Buckeye Girls' State. They are: Julie Looker, sponsored by the Lioness Club, with alternate Lisa English; Sue Moore, sponsored by Business and Professional Women's Club with alternate Ann Fenton; and Barbara Whittington, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, with alternate Megan Lee.

Girls from Miami Trace High School are Gretchen Kreiger, sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary with Leora Burdge

Class names officers

The True Blue Class of Grace United Methodist Church met in the church parlor with 21 members present. Miss Lida Grace Wissler, president, conducted the meeting and devotions were given by Mrs. Martha Reiff. She read from the Book of Romans and commented on "Faith."

Reports were heard, and the class voted to purchase three books by Dr. Clarence Jordan for the church library.

A report from the nominating committee giving the new officers to be installed in June resulted in the following: President, Mrs. Mary Crone; first vice president, Mrs. Dena Hains; secretary, Mrs. Genevieve Whitmer; treasurer, Miss Ruth Sexton; and chairman of cards and flowers, Mrs. Carrie Lucas.

Rev. and Mrs. Everad Broberg presented an interesting and informative program with slides and remarks concerning a trip which they took in England.

A dessert course was served from tables decorated with spring flowers. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Chester Clay, Mrs. Reiff, Mrs. Paul Keefer, Mrs. Gladys Stitt, Mrs. Leona McGinnis, Miss Opal Davids, Miss Norma Dodds and Miss Ruth Sexton.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Chaney and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Chaney of here went to the Columbus Airport where they met Miss Chris Chaney, who was returning from a 10 day tour of Paris, France. The trip was chaperoned by Mrs. Ruth Matchuk, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gatchel and Mrs. Minnie Pointer. The tour group consisted of 30 students from Chillicothe High School, who visited Notre Dame, The Arch of Triumph, Eiffel Tower, Napoleon's Tomb, House of Napoleon and Josephine, Versailles and the surrounding countryside.

Letters from readers of R-H

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

I agree wholeheartedly with Mr. and Mrs. McClung on what they are doing for their son Tom and several other students.

I feel it is everyone's right to be free to wear their hair as they wish. Boys and girls today are changing from when I was a teenager. At first I didn't like long hair on boys but then after a while I realized it isn't what's on the outside that counts but what's on the inside. Oh sure, I've seen some sloppy, messy long hair but you find that with girls as well as boys. If you are brought up to be neat and clean your hair will be too.

I wonder what the school would do if Jesus Christ came for a visit. Would they be happy to print his picture in this yearbook? I realize these are pictures of Christ compiled by men, but that is how we picture Him.

I hope if I am ever put in a position such as the McClungs have been that I will stand up for my boy's rights also.

We have some fine teenagers and hair in my book doesn't count.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

I have a few comments I would like to make concerning black players participating in sports.

I feel that they have been misused and mislead. They get out there and play their hearts out and what do they get? A good pat on the back with a high school letter. Well, of course we all know that this is better than nothing. But, I personally feel they deserve more than a pat on the back. They should be given recommendation to show that their abilities were counted for, too. Even if it is top scorer or the most valuable player award. Because if they earn, they deserve it just like anyone else.

When I say mislead some players have went out for sports and were told to come back several times. So, they keep coming back because they really want to participate. But, when it boils down they refuse them because of some reason about the player.

I feel also that there is a line drawn between the black and white player. There are a great deal of players sitting and watching but not participating. But every school wants a winning team, but yet they're not willing to give a good player a chance. A chance to get the game far enough ahead and then taken out of the game.

I am not condemning anyone, but I feel that this point should be brought out and at least be heard. I would like to close with a quote from Dr. Thomas A. Harris:

"The individual is responsible for what happens in the future, no matter what has happened in the past. And as long as people are bound by the past, they are not free to respond to the needs and aspirations of others in the present."

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

The staff of the Fayette County Health Department wishes to thank the members of the Washington C.H. Altrusa Club for their efforts in behalf of the successful diabetes and high blood pressure detection clinic held in the Washington Inn last Friday.

Through their efforts on publicity and planning the response of six hundred and eighteen was far greater than we in the Health Department, or those of the chronic disease division of the Ohio Department of Health had anticipated. We also wish to thank the laboratory technicians and the nurses of the Fayette County Professional Nurses' Association for their time at the clinic.

Again thanks to the Altrusa Club for their construction to public health in Fayette County.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

We would like to know how a tax-paying citizen is supposed to protect his family and property when charges are brought against a certain party, but are dismissed in court, because we were not notified of the court hearing?

This certain person had turned the corner at a high rate of speed, slid sideways into our yard, slid back across the street, then back across toward our house, ending up about 25 feet away from our two small children's bedroom, where they were both sleeping at the time.

When my husband went out to ask the driver to wait until the police arrived, he became very violent and began fighting. When the police came and finally took this person to the police station, and my husband filed charges against him, he was told that we would be notified as to when the court hearing would be held. I made several attempts to find out, from the police, when they thought the hearing would be held. They told me over and over again, that the clerk of courts would know. Also, while at the police station, my husband was told that he could file a DWI charge

Welfare department works with orphans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Public Welfare said Friday it will stretch rules wherever legally possible to help place Vietnamese orphans with adoptive parents.

"Our staff will facilitate placements of children through the most expeditious administration of Ohio's statutes for the placement of children," said department Director Denver L. White.

130 workers recalled

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Whirlpool Corp. announced Friday that it will recall 130 to 145 workers at its plant here. The company said an increased demand for dryers brought about the recall.

against the driver of the car.

Now, we ask you, what is the city of Washington C.H. coming to when those people that stand up to what they believe is right, don't get anywhere!

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

The focus on the bicentennial observance has motivated many folks like myself to seek information regarding our ancestors. I know that many residents of Fayette County are experts on genealogy and have already some information that would be helpful.

I have been able to document my maternal ancestors' records back to 1793. My great, great, great grandfather, John Popejoy, moved into Wayne Township, Fayette County, in 1793. Later he moved to Washington C.H. in 1810, where he was a justice of the peace on Court Street. His wife died in 1821 and her name was Mary (Champe). He died in 1822 and they were both buried in the first cemetery. My great, great grandfather, Christopher Popejoy, married Sara Bowers and he served with Capt. Henry Mallow's Company, 1st Reg. Ohio State Militia in the War of 1812. Capt. Mallow married his sister, Sarah.

Christopher Popejoy moved to Indiana in 1839 and my grandfather, mother and I were all born in Indiana. Some names familiar to Pickaway, Ross and Fayette counties in the information that I have compiled are Boggs, Champe, DeWitt, Bryan, Cottrill, Oradood, Rankin, Shobe, Tway, Conner and Dice.

Any relative information will be appreciated.

Recycling industry has problems

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Because nature's resources are limited, most people recognize the need to recycle waste products into something usable instead of simply burying or burning or otherwise destroying them.

But recognition of the necessity doesn't lead automatically to the accomplishment, as dealers in recycled paper products are learning today. Some are in a desperate way, their warehouses filled, their order books blank.

Despite the recognition of the need, the industry has closed 18 huge paper-making machines since late last year. Some of these machines were mills in themselves. Altogether, nine or 10 recycling plants have closed.

While the problem has become worse in recent months, it isn't a short-term phenomenon. Since 1968, between 60 and 70 machines have fallen idle.

Recycled paper is more than shirt boards and corrugated boxes. It's newsprint, packaging of items from soaps to hardware, bathroom and facial tissues, gypsum wallboard facings, furniture backings — even fine writing papers.

Thirty years ago, when the word ecology was barely recognized, about 35 per cent of all paper consumed by Americans was recycled. Today, only 22 per cent comes from that source, although tonnage is higher.

The most recent part of the downturn is an understandable consequence of recession. Bales of waste paper, the raw material of recycling plants, piled up as demand fell. Prices plummeted. Recycling, says J. Rodney Edwards of the American Paper Institute, has serious weaknesses, not the least of which is the undependability of its suppliers, many of whom are volunteers.

The paper industry maintains it has exhibited a social conscience and that it has made great efforts to "clean up our mess," but they are not totally free of blame or responsibility.

The fact is that in today's capital-strapped economy, the expenditure for a recycling plant is about one-half that of a virgin pulp facility. That in itself is one incentive for promoting recycling.

But, explains an institute spokesman, the industry's major customers — packers, manufacturers, builders — generally are not specifying the recycled product.

There is another reason for the dilemma of recycling: The paper makers themselves prefer to deal with virgin fibers.

In the post-World War II years the biggest capital expenditures were put into forestland mills. Major production facilities were built at the source of supply, for obvious economic reasons.

At the same time, technological developments greatly changed the industry. The old paper making company evolved into the forest products complex, which produced a variety of products of which paper was only one.

Many companies, therefore, find themselves with an overwhelming capital commitment to virgin fibers that conflicts with their realization that the recycled end of the industry must be further developed.

4-H roundup

By JACK SOMMERS
County Extension Agent, 4-H
NEW ANGLE ON 4-H CONCEPT
4-H'ers are putting a new twist on the old concept of "learning to do by doing". It might be called "learning to lead by leading". The idea in leadership development is for older 4-H members to help others while they personally gain independence. It is called the Junior Leader program.

The 4-H Junior Leader program can:

- Give younger 4-H members the individual attention they need in their club work, and also provide younger members with individuals who may communicate better with them.

- Present a challenging opportunity for older Junior Leaders taking the junior leader project to develop their leadership potential by assuming responsibility for a club of younger members.

- Help in developing and establishing new clubs of younger members from larger existing clubs.
- Help develop junior leaders of local clubs into teen leaders of their own separate clubs.

In keeping with the needs of today's youth, the Junior Leader program helps young people to answer the questions "Who Am I?" "Where Am I Going?" "How will I Get There?" "What Will I Do When I Get There?" Because Junior Leaders work mostly with pre-teens, from 9 to 12 years of age, they find it easy to gain rapport, since they have been pre-teens themselves not so very long ago. And, because they usually work close to adult leaders they have access to older experience and advice in developing their own capabilities.

CAMPING IMPORTANT

June and the last weeks of the school year bring the planning for summer months. For many Ohio 4-H'ers going to camp will be a part of the vacation doings. The camp may be a three-five day event at any of many 4-H camp sites throughout the state. The camp is divided into living groups with counselors. For older 4-H'ers the camp may be a conference combining the recreation of camping and a study of some topic such as health, safety, natural resources, citizenship.

Why is camping a part of the youth program of the Ohio State University Cooperative Extension Service? An answer could be the list of objectives of camping. A successful camping experience meets these objectives — growth in an awareness of nature, learning how to live with others, a gain in maturity through understanding oneself, and an encounter with new learning experiences.

Camping offers an opportunity to come closer to nature, to live with each other and grow in an acceptance and understanding of each other, to become aware of ones own position and responsibility in the world, and to discover new things about the world and self.

Nine 4-H camping opportunities are available for Fayette County 4-H members in 1975. The camp dates are:

- Tenderfoot Camp - 3rd and 4th graders - August 16-19, Camp Clifton.
- Intermediate Camp - 5th and 6th graders - June 19-24, Camp Clifton.
- Advanced Camp - 7th and 8th graders - June 29-July 3, Camp Clifton.
- Multi-County Junior Camp - 5th, through 8th graders - July 28 - August 1, Camp Clifton.
- Teen Camp - High School Student - July 10-14, Camp Clifton.
- Teen Weekend Camp - High School Student - August 8-10, Camp Clifton.
- Outdoor Adventure Camp - 12 years and up, Conservation Projects, July 22-24, Canter's Cave.
- Horse Camp - 12 years and up - Horse Projects - June 23-26, Chillicothe.
- Meat Animal Camp - 15 years and up - Livestock Projects - June 30-July 2, Wilmington.

Youth Activities

YATESVILLE PRODUCERS

The meeting of the Yatesville Producers 4-H Club was called to order by Bart Taylor, who heard reports made. Pledges were led by Robbie Barton. Members answered roll call with naming a favorite car.

"Parents Night" was discussed for April 22 at the Bloomingburg Town Hall. All were reminded that the 4-H Livestock must be on feed by May 10.

Sandy Lewis gave a safety report on "Keep Poisons Locked Up in a Safe Place." Bret Taylor gave the senior health report on "Pesticides and Insecticides."

Refreshments were served by the Lewis'.

4-H DO ALLS

On Monday, April 7, a new 4-H group was formed. So far there are eight girls in the group. They met to discuss what projects they will be doing. They learned how the 4-H clubs work and what 4-H stands for.

The group selected the name of The 4-H Do-Alls, and the advisers are Jane Ann Wackman and Cathy Van Dyke.

The girls elected officers and they are: President, Star Bailey; vice president, Jennifer Eckles; secretary, Cindy Fritchett; treasurer, Holly Croker; news reporter, Samantha Bennett; safety reporter, Susan Fannin; health reporter, Debbie McKinney; one recreation representative, Nancy Blackburn.

It was decided that the group will meet each Thursday. The next meeting will be held at Eastside School.

SCOUT TROOP 229

The meeting of Boy Scout Troop 229 met Tuesday. Results of the kite flying contest were told and John Lamon, the winner, received a citation. Plans for next week's Board of Review were discussed, also the results of the donut sale tabulated, with a total of 15 dozen.

Following the brief patrol meetings, the meeting was adjourned.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

Honorary pallbearers are selected when it is desired to bestow added honor on the deceased. These are usually mature men who have achieved distinction in the profession of the deceased. They do not carry the casket, but walk in front of or behind it in final tribute.

OHIO WATER SERVICE COMPANY Notice of Petition and Application for an Emergency Increase in Rates and Charges and Hearing Before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio

Public notice is hereby given that Ohio Water Service Company filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio on February 14, 1975, a petition and application that, in part, requested authorization of an emergency increase in its rates and charges for service rendered and provided in the City of Washington and in portions of Union Township, both in Fayette County, Ohio.

The applicant alleges that since its last increase in rates and charges, which occurred in 1960, its operating costs have increased very substantially so that applicant is currently operating at a loss. It further alleges that the applicant's Washington C. H. operations fail to produce sufficient earnings to meet the allocable share of the applicant's current bond indenture "coverage" requirements. Based on those and other allegations, the applicant has requested the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to find that the applicant's need to charge higher rates and charges constitutes an emergency and to authorize the applicant to charge the proposed rates and charges set forth below:

Type of Service	Current Rate	Proposed Rate
Division A - PRIVATE CONSUMERS METER RATE SCHEDULE

Panther rally falls short in 7th

Blue Lions hang on for narrow 4-3 win

PEGGED AT HOME — Washington catcher Mark Shaw hangs on to the ball after forcing out Trace's Kevin Dunn in ninth inning action Friday. The Panthers got three runs in the ninth, but Dunn was called out at home for the innings first out as the Miami Trace rally feel one run shy of tying the game up.

Circleville cindermen have season's best track times

With the South Central Ohio League track meet less than three weeks away, it looks like defending league champ Circleville will again set the pace for this year's meet.

Circleville working with the benefit of an indoor season, has turned in the best times in most events so far this season. The Tiger's mentor James Lint has eight trackmen showing the best times in seven events.

Hillsboro, which finished second in the league meet, is strong in the running events, but the Indians lack strength in the field events according to Hillsboro coach Bill Beatty.

Wilmington looks like the Darkhorse this season with some fine sprinters and a hard-to-beat half mile relay team.

The Tigers' Scott Bowman has been tossing the discus over 140-feet in practice, but his best throw in a meet is 138'-5". Greenfield's Tom Adams has also thrown over 140-feet in practice according to McClain Coach Ron Wood. Adams however has been hampered with a foot injury and his best throw in meet action was 138-feet.

CIRCLEVILLE'S Warren Yamrick is the one to watch in the sprints with his best time in the 100-yard dash set at 10-seconds flat. He has also ran a :23.9 in the 220 sprint.

Wilmington boasts a few burners in the short races with Bobby Scott turning in a :54.2 in the quarter mile and a :23.7 in the 220 which ties him with Hillsboro's Fred Turner for the best time in that event.

Wilmington also has sprinter Jack Watson, who has turned in a :10.1 in the 100 this year. Watson teams with Scott, Kenny Carr and Freddie Watson to boast the best time in the half mile relay.

In the longer races, Circleville has a half miler, Mike McGuire who has turned in a 2:05.3 this season. Wilmington has miler Mike Conklin with a season best of 5:01, but Conklin has been injured and he ran a 4:39 last season. Hillsboro's Tom Claiborne has this season's best time in the mile with a 4:48.

Detroit rips Supersonics

By The Associated Press
"You live by the sword and you die by the sword," said Seattle Coach Bill Russell. "It was a painful death, too."

Russell and his upstart Supersonics, hoping to rebound from Thursday night's 122-106 thumping at the hands of Detroit, host the Pistons tonight in the decisive game of their National Basketball Association playoff series. The winners go on to meet Golden State in the Western Conference semifinals starting Monday night. The losers pack up their sneakers and sweatbands and go home.

Washington visits Buffalo in game two of their best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinal series tonight and, in afternoon playoff action, New York met Houston in a nationally-televised contest. The Knicks and Rockets have split the first two games of the best-of-three series and today's winner advances to the Eastern Conference semifinals against Boston.

Buffalo leads Washington 1-0 in their series.

Chief Dean wins

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Chief Dean nosed Mr. Nixon out at the wire to take the $2,250 featured mile trot at Lebanon raceway Friday night in 2:07.3-5.

The winning tickets paid $4.40, $3.20 and $2.40. The place horse returned $5 and $2.80 and Speed Farnley, third, $2.80.

Summer promise and Wingait Harmony, 5-7, paid $24.80 in the daily double and the crowd of 2,106 bet $200,975.

"out best defensive game of the season," captured the opening game of the series 90-77 Tuesday night. But the Piston roared back to even things up two nights later.

"They didn't do anything different," said Russell. "But we did. We didn't execute. We just broke down defensively."

"It wasn't a lack of intensity on our part," he added. "But you can't play with your heart. You've got to play with your head. And we didn't."

Pistons' Coach Ray Scott said his club changed tactics in the second game of the series.

"We decided after Tuesday's game we would have to open it up," said Scott. "We went from our patterns to a running game. Our forwards played very well."

MT girls keep perfect record

The Miami Trace girls softball team stretched its unbeaten string to eleven games over the past two seasons with another high scoring victory. The victim this time was the Hillsboro girls' team as Trace ran up a 38-14 score Thursday afternoon.

The first and fifth innings were the big run scoring frames as Trace grabbed a 13-12 lead in the opening stanza and added 15 runs in the fifth to insure the win.

Tammy Harlan and Jeri Wilson were the hitting stars for Miami Trace with each girl slugging a home run, a single and a double.

The girls next game is slated for Tuesday at Wilmington.

The Fayette County showdown between Washington and the Miami Trace baseball teams went down to the last out Friday afternoon with the home team Blue Lions coming out on top with a narrow 4-3 victory.

Washington used a ten hit attack in registering its fifth victory on the season against three losses. The Blue Lions scored runs in each of the first three innings and held on to 4-0 lead until the seventh behind the pitching of Scott Johnson.

The lefthanded sophomore held the Panthers scoreless through the sixth frame on three hits to post his second victory of the year against no defeats. Friday's contest was Johnson's first starting role as he struck out two and walked six.

The Panthers were able to push three runs across the plate in the top of the seventh and they had the tying run on third base before reliever Larry Dumford came in to retire the side dropping the Panthers' season record to 1-7.

The Blue Lions got a run in the first when Randy Sparkman led off with a walk and David Thompson rapped the first of his three hits putting Sparkman in scoring position. After second basemen Mark Fisher lined out to left, Randy Gardner singled home the games first run.

Washington struck for two more runs in the second on Randy Sparkman's rbi single and a fielder's choice that scored Mark Shaw, who had reached base on a Panther throwing error.

The Lions got one more run in the third that turned out to be the game winner. Randy Gardner got his second hit of the game and Doug Phillips knocked a double setting up Scott Sefton's clutch rbi single.

The Lions got all their runs off Panther starter Alan Conner.

Neither team could get on the scoreboard until the seventh with Johnson and Trace's Tom Riley putting on a pitching duel.

The Panthers big threat came in the last inning as catcher Jay Mossbarger reached first on a throwing error and Johnson walked Kevin Dunn before giving up a run scoring single to Gary English, who had half of the Panthers' four hits. Then pinch hitter Phil Skinner walked to put the tying run on first with nobody out.

Reliever Larry Dumford got Rex Coe to hit a grounder to Gardner at short-stop who brought the ball home forcing Dunn for the first out. Then, Trace slugger Tom Riley drew a walk forcing home the Panthers' second run.

A force play at second off the bat of Alan Conner brought home another run putting the Panthers one run down. On that force play Washington nearly fell deeper in trouble, when second basemen Fisher couldn't handle the toss at second, but Riley, thinking he was out, strayed off second, allowing Fisher to tag him out.

With two outs and runners on first and third Greg Cobb smashed a grounder by the pitcher, but Fisher snared it and stepped on second ending the Panthers' rally and the ballgame.

Winning Coach Rodger Mickle praised Johnson for his pitching. "He mixed up his pitches real well by changing speeds a lot," Mickle said. He also liked the way catcher Mark Shaw handled the lefthander citing the Lion's fine mound work as the key to the victory.

Washington's next game is slated for Wednesday with Hillsboro, while the Panthers will be trying to get on the winning track in a doubleheader Saturday at Portsmouth.

Pirates nip Mets in NL action

By FRED ROTHENBERG

AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who normally travel on the long ball express, took a dozen short trips against the New York Mets and still got where they wanted to go.

The powerful Pirate bats were coming up a little short Friday. They scratched out 12 hits-all singles-but if they didn't belt the Mets into submission, at least they pawed them to death.

"We'll get our share of home runs here," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh after the Pirates scored a subtle 4-3 victory over the Mets. "Give it some time."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs edged the Montreal Expos 2-1; the Atlanta Braves beat the San Francisco Giants 4-2; the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Philadelphia Phillies 6-3; the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the Houston Astros 7-0, and the San Diego Padres dumped the Cincinnati Reds 5-2.

The Pirates shortened the fences at Three Rivers stadium during the off-season, but the only beneficiaries on Friday were the Mets, who carried a 3-0 lead into the ninth inning on solo homers by Dave Kingman and Del Unser and a run-scoring double by Joe Torre.

Pittsburgh, in its home opener, was held to seven singles by Jerry Koosman until the ninth. Consecutive singles by Richie Zisk, Dave Parker and Manny Sanguillen knocked in one run and changed Koosman.

Rookie reliever Rick Bald win, making his first major league appearance, then walked pinch-hitter Paul Popovich to load the bases. One out later, Rennie Stannett singled up the middle to tie the score.

Mac Scarce replaced Baldwin and Richie Hebler knocked one of his tosses into short left field, scoring Popovich from second with the winning run.

Favored teams lose ABA clashes

By The Associated Press

The unexpected has become commonplace in the American Basketball Association.

Friday night, the teams favored to win all lost and, as a result, the ABA playoffs are a little more scrambled today.

In St. Louis, rookie sensation Marvin Barnes outdueled Julius Erving during a hectic final three minutes and led the Spirits of St. Louis to a 113-108 victory over the New York Nets.

The triumph by the young Spirits, their second in a row over the defending ABA champions, provided them with a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven series. Game Four will be played in St. Louis on Sunday.

In Memphis, Stew Johnson scored 25 points and had 11 rebounds to lead the Sounds to a 107-93 playoff victory over the Kentucky Colonels. It was the first playoff victory for Memphis in its five-year history and set the best-of-seven series against Kentucky at 3-1 with a fifth game to be played Sunday in Louisville.

In Salt Lake City, captain Ron Boone led a first-half surge that carried the Utah Stars to a 132-110 rout of the Denver Nuggets. This Western Division playoff series is now knotted at 2-2 and moves to Denver for game No. 5 tonight.

In the other ABA playoff, the Indiana Pacers, leading 3-0, have a chance to wrap up their series against the San Antonio Spurs in Indianapolis tonight.

Ohio all-stars post victory

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Truman Claytor of Toledo Scott and Phil Hubbard of Canton McKinley were the superstars of the Ohio All-Stars' 103-94 upset victory over the U.S. All-Stars at the Coliseum Friday night.

Claytor whipped in 27 points and Hubbard contributed 23 points and 19 rebounds to keep the Ohioans safely in front most of the way.

The Northeast Ohio All-Stars beat the Lake Erie All-Stars 88-86 in the first game on the program put on by the Knights of Columbus.

The Ohio-U.S. stars were tied twice in the early going before the Ohioans took the lead for good. They were up 57-to-50 at halftime.

Claytor fired in 12 points in the third quarter, when Ohio moved out to a 12-point lead.

Frank Sanders of Dayton Stivers contributed 17 points to the Ohio victory.

In the first game, Mark Davis of Warren Harding drove in for a layup with eight seconds left to play to give the Northeastern Ohio All-Stars their victory margin.

The 6-foot-4 Davis tallied 24 points to lead all scorers and was voted most valuable player in the opener. Cedrick Adams of Youngstown South added 18 for the Northeastern All-Stars.

Now, he wants to sell it!

You've been thinking about that acreage for some time — It's good land and offers a great opportunity to expand. Can you afford that big step forward? Adequate financing could be the key!

Long-term credit, at competitive interest rates, through the Land Bank Association, can spread expansion costs over extra years for smaller payments. Come by soon... you may be pleasantly surprised at what you can afford.

Padres manhandle Cincy Reds, 5-2

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "I would hate to pitch that way all the time," said San Diego's Dan Spillner. "If I did, I might get killed."

That was the sophomore right-hander's modest reaction Friday night after he overcame three walks and 10 Cincinnati hits to help the Padres hand the Reds their first loss in four outings this season, 5-2.

The Reds were more generous with Spillner, who struggled even after being given a 5-1 lead in the first four innings against left-hander Fred Norman, who gave up a two-run double to Dave Winfield, a two-run single to Enzo Hernandez and a run-scoring single to John Grubb.

"I couldn't pick up his breaking ball at all, I was swinging at pitches in the

Brewers top Cleveland

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hank Aaron made baseball history again, but Billy Champion said the all-time home run king's very presence helped as much as his first American League hit, run and run batted in.

"I think a lot of guys on this club want to show him they can play," Champion said. "Here he is, a living legend, and we're privileged to play with him. The rest of us want to prove to him we can play, too, and play well."

Champion's pitching impressed Aaron, the Cleveland Indians and a record 48,160 fans Friday. He checked the Indians on three hits through eight innings, while John Briggs slammed a go-ahead homer and Pedro Garcia a two run double as the Milwaukee Brewers celebrated Aaron's homecoming with a 6-2 Opening Day victory.

Aaron, accorded a thunderous two minute standing ovation in pregame ceremonies, gave the Brewers a 1-0 lead when his infield out scored Bob Coluccio in the third inning. The RBI left him six behind Babe Ruth's career record 2,209.

The Indians tied the score with an unearned run in the fourth, but Briggs untied it for good with a line drive homer leading off a five run sixth inning. Aaron singled and scored in the rally.

Fred Balser of Elyria, whose desperation shot spun off the rim of the basket as the buzzer sounded, was voted MVP for the Lake Erie stars. Balser finished with 14 points.

Art Cook of Lorain Admiral King and Craig Salter of Wickliffe led the Lake Erie scoring with 16 points each.

A crowd of 4,812 turned out for the exhibition.

dirt," said Reds cleanup batter Tony Perez, who was a victim of three of Spillner's eight strikeouts.

"I don't remember much about him from last year, but he is a lot faster than they told us he was," said the Reds' Joe Morgan.

"If he pitches like that all year, he'll either be a Cy Young Award winner or his arm will fall off," said Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's All-Star catcher. "He had good stuff but he threw a lot of pitches." The Reds stranded 11 runners.

"I've learned to be more aggressive, make better pitches and get ahead of the hitters," said Spillner, who scored the only two victories the Padres gained against Los Angeles in 18 meetings last season.

"I didn't pitch well against Cincinnati last year and there were a lot of times tonight when Bench and Perez came up with runners on base.

"Next time I face the Reds, I've got to keep people ahead of them off base."

Hernandez, Bobby Tolan and Randy Hundley each had two of the 10 San Diego hits off Norman, 0-1, and Tom Hall.

Hopeful News in Medicine:

Speaking of Your Health...

Herbal Medicines: A Warning

A flurry of hope that Chinese herbal medicines would soon be excellent for rheumatism, arthritis, neuritis, lung conditions and circulatory disorders followed on the heels of acupuncture enthusiasm.

Now, definite warnings are being issued that these widely popularized herbs may indeed be responsible for dangerous illnesses.

Some of these herbal medicines contain aminopyrine and phenyl-butazone, two drugs which can be hazardous and can cause blood disorders.

Many of these drugs are imported illegally and consequently do not have to conform to the rigid requirements of safety set down by the Food and Drug Administration. Dr. Curt Ries and Dr. M.A. Sahud, of the University of California in San Francisco, have advised the public to be aware of the dangers of over-the-counter Chinese herbal medicines.

An experimental scalpel that shoots a jet of gas from a ball-point tip is now being tried in some types of surgery.

Dr. John L. Glover and Dr. William J. Link, of the Indiana University Medical Center, have developed this new surgical tool. Still in experimental phases, it has been found to control bleeding in highly vascular organs.

The instrument will not replace the surgical knives now in use, but certainly would give surgeons better control of operations in difficult areas, like the liver and the spleen.

Before being tried in humans, active experimentation will continue.

Opening lead — ace of hearts.

It is said that the first thing a beginner learns is when to finesse, and that the last thing he learns is when not to finesse. There is more truth than poetry in this observation, and today's deal is a striking illustration of the principle.

West led the ace of hearts, felling the king, then shifted to the ace and another diamond. Declarer rose with the king, ruffed a heart and played a trump, planning to finesse. When West produced the king, forcing the ace, declarer continued with the queen, West showing out.

Faced with a sure trump loser, South now had to escape a club loser to make the contract. It would seem normal for declarer to lead a club at this point and finesse the jack to go down one, but actually South did much better than that.

He did lead a club, but went up with the ace, continued with the king, and easily made the contract when he caught the queen. The only tricks South lost were a spade, a heart and a diamond.

Declarer displayed exceptionally good judgment in rejecting the club finesse. He was aware from the bidding that West had at least ten cards in the red suits and that he therefore could not have more than two clubs.

Finessing the jack of clubs consequently could not gain a trick, for even if the finesse succeeded because East had the queen, East would still have a club trick coming with a holding of four or more to the queen. A further reason for rejecting the finesse was the high probability that West had the queen of clubs as part of his bidding values.

Tuesday's game at the Washington Inn attracted seven tables, and winners were named for east-west and north-south pairs. Dave Ivers and Mrs. Larry Coil topped the east-west competitors with a score of 72. They were followed by Mrs. Craig Vandemark and George Malek with 65.

North-south winners were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Zimmerman with 86 while Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Wright were second with 70.

Mrs. Coil, who has placed first in both games this month, leads the spring award competition with 44 points. She is followed by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Zimmerman, with 39 each.

AMBITIOUS FARMERS

The third meeting of the Ambitious Junior Farmers was called to order by Chris Wright. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Terri Holguin, 4-H Pledge by John Hoppes. Roll call was answered by a favorite color, and reports were made and approved. Laura Ervin made the treasurer's report.

The business consisted of 4-H sales coming up and a safety report was given by Scott Snyder on "The Safety of Hiking." The health report was made by Glenn Conn on "Some Signs of Good Health."

Mrs. O'Cull gave out the 4-H Books. The next meeting will be May 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Jeffersonville School. There is a lamb and pig clinic April 22 that all members should attend, since it counts as a meeting.

The meeting was adjourned by Todd Snyder and Jamie Hobbs.

FANCY FARMERS 4-H

The meeting of the Fancy Farmers 4-H Club was held in the home of Kelly and Mark Smith April 1, when Chris Garland called the meeting to order. Kelly Smith led the pledges, and roll was answered by who bought their pig last year.

Joe Garland told about the judging contest and Jeff Sollars gave the health report on "Personal Grooming." Todd Gustin gave the safety report on "Fire Extinguishers."

Mike Sollars and Keith Montgomery adjourned the meeting. Advisers gave out judging guides on beef, sheep and swine to all members, who discussed them.

The next meeting will be April 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the Fairgrounds.

Miller given permit for gun

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A one-year West Virginia license to carry a deadly weapon was granted Friday to United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller.

The permit application was approved because Miller has been threatened and sometimes carries large sums of money, said Kanawha Circuit Judge Patrick Casey.

"On many occasions I have been directly threatened with bodily harm and taking of my life to the extent that I have requested protection provided by the federal government and private enterprise," Miller's petition said.

More evidence recovered in search at Rocky Fork

HILLSBORO — A diver recovered more evidence of two missing Cincinnati men at Rocky Fork State Park Friday, and park manager Robert Rooney said he believes the bodies will be recovered sometime today.

One diver from the Pickaway County Underwater Recovery Squad will be joined by eight other divers today in the search for Steve Wilken, 25, and Ronald Kluba, 27, of near Cincinnati. The men have been missing since they left their homes last Friday for a weekend fishing trip at Rocky Fork Lake. No signs of bodies or the men's 15-foot fiberglass boat and motor were found in six days of intensive searching, but articles of clothing identified as Wilken's were recovered from Rocky Fork Lake.

Meeting slated

The regular monthly meeting of the Fayette County chapter of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at the Landmark building an Old Chillicothe Road.

All members and any interested public employees are urged to attend.

Friday the diver found a battery cable which had been underwater a relatively short period of time Rooney said.

DP&L holds annual meeting

At the annual shareholders meeting of the Dayton Power and Light Co., Robert B. Killen, chairman and chief executive officer, announced a slight improvement in earnings for the 12 months ending February 28 of $1.96 per share compared with $1.89 per share for the calendar year of 1974.

Killen reported that the increase was caused mainly by the 13.5 per cent interim retail electric rate increase

PTO elects new officers

MADISON MILLS — New officers have been selected by the Madison Mills PTO to head the organization during the next school year. Charles Neff was chosen to succeed Gary Hidy as president.

Ronnie Huff will serve as vice president; Mrs. Lena Mowery, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Bihl, treasurer; and Mrs. Kaye Hollar, news reporter.

During the business meeting members voted to purchase an Ohio flag to be flown at the school. The kindergarten class which presented the program for the evening also won the award for having the greatest number of parents present.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

Congressional budget makers are projecting a government red ink figure of about $73.2-billion, a bigger deficit than President Ford says he can tolerate. Ford insists that $60-billion should be the limit for a deficit and warned that Congress threatens to send it up to $100-billion, which would be a disaster as well as gambling with the nation's economic strength.

Talking about anything in terms of billions can make for confusion. But talking about dollars in the billions can be mind-boggling.

SO LET'S look at it in terms easier for all of us to understand.

A $100-billion deficit means that every day the Federal Government will pay out $274-million more than it takes in.

A deficit that goes up $11½-million an hour is ridiculous! But that will be the case with a $100-billion deficit. Even a $60-billion deficit is outlandish.

The entire idea becomes even more ludicrous when you consider that just 13 years ago, the entire federal budget — not the deficit, but the entire budget — was just $100-billion.

When government spends more than it takes in, it still must pay its bills. It pays those bills by selling government debt securities and by borrowing funds from the same financial institutions that lend them out privately, to businesses, to contractors, to prospective home buyers; in short, to people just like you and me. The more capital government takes out of the market, the less there is for private use.

The overall effect of this is higher interest rates, and when businesses, contractors, home buyers, and so forth, cannot borrow, recession is the inevitable result, meaning the loss of productivity and jobs.

placed in effect January 16. He termed the level of earnings inadequate and said that earnings per share should be increased approximately 30 per cent in order to meet the company's obligation to provide adequate energy.

Robert E. Frazer, president, stated that the company's goal is to increase earnings, dividends and the market price of common stock. He said these goals are in both the shareholders and the consumers best interest.

If these goals are reached, the rates consumers pay will be lower than if the company were in a less favorable financial condition.

Seek better dairy farms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A task force of federal and university experts says a stepped up effort should be made to help dairy farmers improve their operations, including more research emphasis on the use of plant forage as animal feed.

The study was requested by Congress and was released Friday by the Agriculture department. It said more money should be spent on dairy research, much of which would help other livestock sectors.

"The heart of the current dairy industry dilemma centers around the drastic change in the milk-grain price ratio, the high cost of supplements and protein concentrates," the report said.

"All signs indicate an urgent need to greatly increase utilization of forage legumes and grasses, crop residues and other plant material to provide nutrients for dairy cattle and other ruminants," the task force said.
